

Appleby Artist Biography

Deborah Appleby is a retired educator and clay artist. Infusing art into the classroom was a gift she shared with students during her art journey. She has taken the road from clay to glass art after thirty five years. Over the past three years, she has explored the world of glass with beginnings in stained glass. Continuing to stretch, she has found a passion through light, texture and color. Immersed in fused glass, Deborah invites you to join her travels through the world of glass and enjoy the designs created through the dance of glass and light.

Deborah's works have been displayed in various galleries in South Carolina and she is proud to be back in North Carolina while becoming a rooted part of the coastal arts. She takes part in local shows, festivals and markets as well as selling works through social media and website.
