

Audrey Berkowitz

Photographer

Photography equals peace and serenity in my world. Capturing objects and places in the beauty of our own area has been my focus since moving to North Carolina. I help people explore new perspectives and share places that effect me. Life is constantly changing and photography gives us the ability to capture a moment in time. I hope you enjoy my view.