

Heather is a fine artist who loves the challenge of painting as realistically as she can. Her favorite subjects are birds and flowers, but she also enjoys painting just about anything and everything in nature.

After almost 30 years working in various graphic design, web design, marketing, and sales groups for large and small corporations, Heather decided it was time to get out of the rat race and focus on what she really loves: creating art in many forms and media. She has a degree in Industrial Design from the Art Institute of Pittsburgh but has been drawing and painting since she was a child.

Heather grew up in Pennsylvania but moved south in 2009 to get away from the long winters. She currently lives in Coastal North Carolina with her Italian Greyhounds, Luca and Enzo.

Heather is a member of the Art League of Leland, the Brunswick Arts Council, and the Wilmington Arts Association.
