PAINTING LANDSCAPES WITH PAPER with LOIS WATSON

Friday, JANUARY 19, 2024, 10 AM – 4 PM

Workshop Description

Let's play with paper! This Painting with Paper workshop teaches the basics of paper collage and some of Lois's specific painting with paper techniques. You'll learn about the different types of paper and how to best work with them to create different effects. We'll experiment with selecting papers, layering, tearing, cutting and applying them in a landscape collage. Then you'll get to make your own piece using your own simple inspiration photo reference, or a provided one. All materials are supplied for this 6-hour workshop. Bring a bag lunch, a photo reference if you'd like, your curiosity and your creativity.

About the Instructor:

Inspiration comes to Lois through beautiful handmade and hand painted papers. The color, the texture, or the pattern of the paper may spark inspiration, then add a glimpse of a moment or an experience to bring a vision for a new "painting". Painting with paper! Working out of her home studio in the Middle Sound area of Wilmington, Lois has worked professionally as a pen and ink and watercolor architectural renderer since 1995. Paper collage allows her the freedom to express what brings her joy in life experienced on the water and in this beautiful coastal area that we call home. Her paper collages are made with the hope that they will bring joy to others as well.
